From the Pastor

October 2016

Happy Reformation Day... well, I guess it is a little early. But 'tis the month, so a few Reformation thoughts.

We are on the way to celebrating the 500th anniversary of the Reformation (October 2017). In the grand scheme of things, 500 years isn't that much time – but think about how much has changed since the year A.D. 1517 – we have indoor plumbing, books and Bibles in every home (thank you, Gutenberg's printing press!), motorized vehicles, incandescent lighting... and the list goes on!

So with everything that has changed – has the Reformation changed? Were the condemnations and anathemas exchanged between Luther and the pope just the products of grumpy old men? In 1999, the Lutheran World Federation (an organization our LC-MS is not a part of) and the Roman Catholic Church signed what is known as the “Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification.” It states that the two churches “share a common understanding of our justification by God's grace through faith in Christ.” More recently, in 2015, the ELCA and the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops Committee on Ecumenical and Interreligious Affairs affirmed 32 statements of agreement (entitled “Declaration on the Way”). Pope Francis and the Lutheran World Federation (in 2013) released a joint document titled “From Conflict to Communion,” and in 2014, Pope Francis sparked controversy when he spoke well of Martin Luther.

So after 500 years, it looks like the Reformation is no big deal, right? – Lutheranism is on the way back into the Roman Catholic Church... or so it would seem. But even though the media reporting and the joint declarations rejoice in such ecumenical dealings, we must consider what each church teaches in order to answer the question, ‘Is the Reformation still important?’

So- we consider one brief example:

#839, 847 – “The plan of salvation also includes those who acknowledge the Creator, in the first place amongst whom are the Muslims; these profess to hold the faith of Abraham, and together with us, they adore the one, merciful God, mankind’s judge on the last day.... (Others cannot) be saved (however), who, knowing that the Catholic Church was founded as necessary by God through Christ, would refuse either to enter it or to remain in it. This affirmation is not aimed at those who, through no fault of their own, do not know Christ and his Church: Those who, through no fault of their own, do not know the Gospel of Christ or his Church, but who nevertheless seek God with a sincere heart, and, moved by grace, try in their actions to do his will as they know it through the dictates of their conscience – those too may achieve eternal salvation.”

From Luther’s Small Catechism, the 3rd Article of the Creed:

“I believe that I cannot by my own reason or strength believe in Jesus Christ, my Lord, or come to Him.... He calls, gathers, enlightens, and sanctifies the whole Christian Church on earth, and keeps it with Jesus Christ in the one true faith.”

What is the difference according to how a person may be saved? According to the Roman Catholic Catechism, non-Christians, heathen, and unbelievers of any kind may find their way into heaven as long as they sincerely believe their personal faith and act lovingly according to it (see underlined portion of the text). According to Lutherans, those who are saved are those who are kept in the faith with Jesus. “No one comes to the Father except through Me,” says Jesus.

We could go on further, but suffice it to say that the Reformation IS still important; 500 years later, the theology of the Lutheran Church is still all about Jesus. So despite what the media reports, there still are great differences in belief between Lutherans and Roman Catholics, and we won’t be in fellowship with one another any time soon. So this year, we thank God for the work that He did for Martin Luther – that He reminded us of His grace to us that comes through Christ Jesus – and that this is still a free gift for one and all.

Happy Reformation Day.

Tape Ministry

If you are unable to attend the worship services for any reason, including short-term recoveries, we would be happy to drop off a copy of the sermon or tape of the service which includes a bulletin. Please call Pam and Jack Wertenberger at 356-8139 or Pam's cell phone: 260-388-2507 to arrange for delivery. If you have received and listened to previous tapes, please place in a bag on your door to be picked up when a new tape is delivered. Thanks for your help. Jack & Pam Wertenberger

The Love, INC of Huntington County

Love, INC thanks our congregation for our continued support of the Huntington Community Food Pantry. The pantry provides food and household/personal supplies to families who struggle to put dinner on the table each evening. Kelly Miller says here is a snapshot of some of the items we helped to provide for our neighbors:

3,005 cans of vegetables

358 boxed of cereal

652 spaghetti sauce and noodles

7986 boxed of macaroni and cheese

682 cans of chicken noodle soup

451 dozen eggs

394 supply bags

A Little Heavenly Humor

Mother: You shouldn't be flying that model airplane in the backyard on Sunday.

Johnny: Oh, it's all right to fly this one. It isn't a pleasure plane. It's a missionary plane going to the jungle.
